Qavali Afternoon Tea

Isn't it remarkable how the practise of tea-drinking is now steeped in ancient traditions and customs?

For centuries, the history of tea, and afternoon tea has brewed as profoundly as the beverage itself. While specific customs vary from region-to-region, the commonality among them all is that tea is usually at the heart of blissful gatherings and catch-ups.

As such, Qavali's Afternoon Tea is the perfect excuse to soothe your insides, while being inspired by age-old traditions that have formed the very crevice(s) of Indo-Persian culture.

You and your loved ones will soak up the breathtaking ambience of Qavali's Persian garden setting, where even the clinks of teacups are akin to a serenade.

The Afternoon Tea will consist of a selection of handmade finger sandwiches, scones and classic Indo-Persian sweets and savouries.

No doubt, you will be utterly spoilt for choice.

So, step into the city's most paradisal venue that speak of nothing but love and togetherness.

Traditional Afternoon Tea..... £35 per guest

Champagne Afternoon Tea..... £40 per guest

(including a glass of Champagne)
